

JOURNEY & BURNHAM

26 to 42 Flatbush Avenue, Junction Fulton Street, Brooklyn.
Store Opens Mondays at 8 o'clock. Other days at 8:30.

OUR SPRING SALE OF Men's Linen Collars and Cuffs

Will commence to-morrow.
COLLARS 6 for 45c. CUFFS 6 pairs 65c.
Comprising the best values ever offered. All shapes and styles in Collars, turn down, wing and straight; Cuffs consist of square and round cornered link and closed cuffs.
None sent C. O. D. No mail orders filled.

WOMEN'S SPRING SUITS At Unprecedentedly Low Prices.

At $14.75. Worth $25.00. At $10.95. Worth $18.50. At $5.95. Worth $12.50.

Women's suits of broadcloth, velvets and chevrons. Jacket lined with taffeta and tastefully trimmed with braid in colors and black.
Women's suits of fine chevrons, colors and black. Jacket, braid trimmed, satin lined. A small lot only, but all sizes are represented.

Women's RAIN COATS.
Made of imported cravenetted cloth, water proof and moth proof. A variety of stylish shapes—blouse fronts with capes or plain, others trimmed with broadcloth. Gray and tan. Actually worth $25.50.
$14.75.

MEN'S FANCY HALF HOSE,
Actual 50c. to $1.00 Goods.
3 Pairs for $1.00.
Fine imported Half Hose in striped, fancy check, embroidered and lace hais; also very tasteful, mercerized hais thread.

The Remainder of the Special Lot of Women's $3 to $5 Shoes Reduced to $1.00

To close them out. The line of sizes is broken. They are good styles, well made and in all sorts of leathers. The sizes are: In "A," 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12; in "B," 1 1/2, 2, 2 1/2, 3, 3 1/2, 4, 4 1/2, 5, 5 1/2, 6, 6 1/2, 7, 7 1/2, 8, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2, 10, 10 1/2, 11, 11 1/2, 12.

IN WOMEN'S SHOES THE BEST $3.00 MAKE IS THE

Made in all sorts of suitable, dependable leathers, in every correct style.
The Oxfords in Queen Quality Are $2.50.
The "J. & B. Special" Shoe at $3.50
Is not surpassed by any $5.00 shoe anywhere.

Queen Quality

GHOST REVEALS BURIED CITY. PECULIAR CONDUCT OF OTHER RESTLESS SPIRITS.

Speaks That Stopped a House—Strange Appearance of Young Woman in Maine—Hunted Spot in Georgia—Busy Spirits in Ireland—Royal Wraiths.

Coelepe, a little village in the State of Michoacan, Mexico, has always had a reputation for ghosts and spirits. In the past year, especially, inhabitants of the air or the streams or the graves of the many dead that lie buried all about the village have been wandering about like a colony of restless night owls.

They have not been the least shy, like ordinary ghosts, for they have been seen by hundreds. In fact, there is hardly an inhabitant of the place that has not made an acquaintance with some spirit or other from the past.

Jose Miranda of all the people seems to have profited most by their acquaintance. One night several weeks ago as he was coming home from a neighboring village a ghost all in white, its gray cow falling back from its shoulders leaving its head exposed to view, met him. It was standing between him and the moon, which was shining brightly over the hollow sockets of its eyes and a bullet hole in its skull.

It stood still and pointed with one bony hand toward the mountains. Miranda was unable to move, but the ghost, as soon as it caught sight of the ghost, made for the village as fast as it could run.

A week later Miranda was riding along the same road when the ghost met him in the same place. This time it seized the animal by the bridle with one hand and pointed with the other in the direction of the hills. Jose thought he had better humor the ghost, and, turning round, went in the direction indicated.

In about a quarter of an hour they arrived at the foothills. The ghost stopped and pointed to a huge stone at the foot of a tall tree and then immediately disappeared.

It was two weeks before Miranda could persuade any person to go with him to the spot, which he had marked by a cross. He succeeded at last in persuading an Indian and a missionary from Mexico City to accompany him.

When they got to the place they tried to move the big stone, but could not. They then dug under one side of it and let it roll down the hill.

After about an hour's work they came upon a circle of skulls, stone axes and relics of a long past age. Examination showed that the big stone had carved upon its surface a gigantic hand and that the Circle of Skulls, as the place is now called, was part of the remains of a great ancient city which had been buried by landslides.

At Nasonville, in the town of Burrillville, R. I., there was a large house which had for some time been bombarded with showers of stones. The people of the wrought-up village, after weeks of careful investigation and many conferences with their neighbors, are at a loss to explain where the stones could have come from.

They had all heard the bombardment often, and as many as fifty men, women and children had surrounded the house, looked behind every tree and stone wall within a hundred yards, and had even scoured a distant grove of trees, but they had never been able to catch a glimpse of any kind of being either in flesh or in spirit that could have been suspected of throwing the stones.

Finally, the owner of the house offered a reward of $25 for the solution of the mystery. Then the bombardment ceased. From this many people argued that a human being was at the bottom of the whole affair, contending that ghosts would not stop their devilment simply because a price had been set for their apprehension.

"But if it isn't ghosts," asks one man who isn't afraid of being called a "bug-house," "what then is it?"

The North Woods Cemetery, at Haines street and York road, Philadelphia, was the scene of much excitement among the residents of that neighborhood. Many people declared that they had seen apokas.

The supposed ghost appeared regularly as soon as darkness fell, and with an uncanny motion of walking upon air, flitted from one gravestone to another. There was no conventional groans or clanking of chains, but its appearance was so uncanny as to draw crowds of awe-stricken people together after nightfall.

A horseman named Edward Hogan

Queen Quality

Speaks That Stopped a House—Strange Appearance of Young Woman in Maine—Hunted Spot in Georgia—Busy Spirits in Ireland—Royal Wraiths.

Coelepe, a little village in the State of Michoacan, Mexico, has always had a reputation for ghosts and spirits. In the past year, especially, inhabitants of the air or the streams or the graves of the many dead that lie buried all about the village have been wandering about like a colony of restless night owls.

They have not been the least shy, like ordinary ghosts, for they have been seen by hundreds. In fact, there is hardly an inhabitant of the place that has not made an acquaintance with some spirit or other from the past.

Jose Miranda of all the people seems to have profited most by their acquaintance. One night several weeks ago as he was coming home from a neighboring village a ghost all in white, its gray cow falling back from its shoulders leaving its head exposed to view, met him. It was standing between him and the moon, which was shining brightly over the hollow sockets of its eyes and a bullet hole in its skull.

It stood still and pointed with one bony hand toward the mountains. Miranda was unable to move, but the ghost, as soon as it caught sight of the ghost, made for the village as fast as it could run.

A week later Miranda was riding along the same road when the ghost met him in the same place. This time it seized the animal by the bridle with one hand and pointed with the other in the direction of the hills. Jose thought he had better humor the ghost, and, turning round, went in the direction indicated.

In about a quarter of an hour they arrived at the foothills. The ghost stopped and pointed to a huge stone at the foot of a tall tree and then immediately disappeared.

It was two weeks before Miranda could persuade any person to go with him to the spot, which he had marked by a cross. He succeeded at last in persuading an Indian and a missionary from Mexico City to accompany him.

When they got to the place they tried to move the big stone, but could not. They then dug under one side of it and let it roll down the hill.

After about an hour's work they came upon a circle of skulls, stone axes and relics of a long past age. Examination showed that the big stone had carved upon its surface a gigantic hand and that the Circle of Skulls, as the place is now called, was part of the remains of a great ancient city which had been buried by landslides.

At Nasonville, in the town of Burrillville, R. I., there was a large house which had for some time been bombarded with showers of stones. The people of the wrought-up village, after weeks of careful investigation and many conferences with their neighbors, are at a loss to explain where the stones could have come from.

They had all heard the bombardment often, and as many as fifty men, women and children had surrounded the house, looked behind every tree and stone wall within a hundred yards, and had even scoured a distant grove of trees, but they had never been able to catch a glimpse of any kind of being either in flesh or in spirit that could have been suspected of throwing the stones.

Finally, the owner of the house offered a reward of $25 for the solution of the mystery. Then the bombardment ceased. From this many people argued that a human being was at the bottom of the whole affair, contending that ghosts would not stop their devilment simply because a price had been set for their apprehension.

"But if it isn't ghosts," asks one man who isn't afraid of being called a "bug-house," "what then is it?"

The North Woods Cemetery, at Haines street and York road, Philadelphia, was the scene of much excitement among the residents of that neighborhood. Many people declared that they had seen apokas.

The supposed ghost appeared regularly as soon as darkness fell, and with an uncanny motion of walking upon air, flitted from one gravestone to another. There was no conventional groans or clanking of chains, but its appearance was so uncanny as to draw crowds of awe-stricken people together after nightfall.

A horseman named Edward Hogan

ABRAHAM AND STRAUS

BROOKLYN.

Economy Examples in Furniture.

Just a few strong items to show how wonderful the opportunities are in the Furniture Store. It pays any one just to see the new ware now in this Furniture Store—the Spring and Summer reed and grass Chairs, Settees, Tables, etc.—the wicker ware and all the light Furniture that never before was so pretty and attractive, as well as comfortable.

$1.50 Dining Chairs, 95c.

Golden oak, carved back, cane seat.

$2.00 Tables, $1.25.

Golden oak, 30 inches square, with under shelf.

$2.40 Rockers, $1.60.

Golden oak, carved back and wood seat.

$8.50 Chiffoniers, $5.95.

Golden oak, carved designs, 5 drawers; with bevel mirror.

$12.00 Morris Chairs, $8.70.

Golden oak, polished oak frame, with claw feet and all-hair velvet cushions.

$15.50 Sideboards, $9.95.

Golden oak, carved design, nicely finished, with bevel plate mirror.

$16.00 China Closets, $11.95.

Golden oak, bent end, with mirror on top.
Third and Fourth floors, Central Building.

A Budget of Big Values.

The Gist of Monday's Sales.

Women's $2.50 and $3.00 Silk Umbrellas, $1.27.

$1.50 Eyeglasses and Spectacles, 36c. None C. O. D.

Boys' $1.00 and $1.25 Knee Trousers, 59c.

A. & S. Creamery Butter, 25c. a pound.

$1.00 White Lawn Waists, 49c.

Women's $3.00 Spring Oxforas, $1.98.

$3.00 China Silk Waists, $1.98.

$2.00 and $3.25 Dress Hats, $1.69.

Remitted Writing Paper, 9c. a pound.

Women's 69c. and 79c. Gloves, 49c. a pair.

Girls' $2.00 Suits, $1.39.

$2.00 J. B. Corsets, 79c.

Women's 50c. Belts, 39c.

25c. Photograph Frames, 15c.

Women's 25c. to 35c. Underwear, 19c.

Men's 4-ply Collars, 6 for 48c.

10c. Black Taffeta Percale, 9c.

19c. and 21c. Sheet Music, 10c.

Ribbon Loom Ends, Half to Third Off.

A Great Sale of Notions.

Men's $20.00 and $22.00 Spring Suits, $14.50.

$2.00 and $2.50 Net Top Laces, 98c. a yard.

Men's Silk Lined Suits, to Measure, $25.00.

Colored Wool Vests and Albatross, 39c.

$1.50 Dining Chairs, 95c.

$10.00 and $12.00 Diamond Link Cuff Buttons, $3.95 a pair.

New Carpets, Matting, Rugs, etc.

A Sea of Muslin Underwear.

28,900 Yards of Silks—For Little.

Women's $30.00 Tailored Suits, $19.75.

10,000 Yards of 25c. Colored Mercerized Chambray, 12 1/2c. a yard.

$20 & $22 Spring Suits for Men, $14.50 Another Great Sale.

Probably the finest chance that ever came before the last of April. Suits of this fine quality would be great value at $14.50 when the season was over—but the maker, one of the best known manufacturers of high grade clothing, let us have all his lines that were down to clearance lots at cost or less than cost, and of course you reap the benefit in the service time.

The cloths are among the finest of American worsteds—fabrics always in favor in Brooklyn—the patterns being refined, rich and conservative; medium to dark colors, gray shades predominating; coats are shapely, three or four button sacks, half or full lined; practically every garment made under the immediate supervision of the manufacturer, who is a stickler for style and good workmanship—they have all the snap and go about them that hand tailoring can give them.

Full assortment of sizes, including some for the stout and the extra tall.
Second floor, rear, East Building.

A Lace Sale—Simply Astonishing.

$2.00 and $2.50 Net Top Laces, 98c. Yd.
It would not be so surprising if these remarkable sales were on ordinary Laces in this Lace Store, but to have such incomprehensibly low prices on the Laces that are the scarcest and the most needed just at this time is simply astonishing.

But here they are in white, um and solid effects; some are silk, some linen and some cotton; in black, white, natural, butter and Paris shades.

And there are other net top effects, various makes and widths, worth 25c. to $3.95, at 10c. to $1.98.
25c. to $10.98 Insertions, Bands and Gallons, 10c. to $4.98 Yd.

In black, white, butter and Paris shades, some are silk, linen and cotton; in various makes and widths.
50c. to $10.50 Allover, 25c. to $4.98 Yd.
In various makes, light, medium and dark shades.

Suitable for trimming Summer dresses, underwear, etc. Point de Paris, fancy Valenciennes, Normandy, Torchon and Cluny effects, in sets and odd widths.

$12.50 to $150.00 Robes at $5.98 to $49.00.

Some are real, some hand run and some machine made. In black, white, natural, butter and Paris shades.

Main floor, center, Central Building.

The Sterling Piano Player.

A Far Reaching Musical Triumph.

Almost Human in Its Interpretation.